Course of Studies.

Particular attention is given to the Common English Branches, to prepare young gentlemen and ladies to become competent teachers. There are always at least three classes in English Grammar, and four or five in Arithmetic, so arranged, one after the other, as to accommodate all who wish to pursue those studies. For students that intend to go through a regular classical course, the following order of studies is adopted :—

MALE DEPARTMENT.

FIRST YEAR.

First Session.—Ray's Algebra, Part First; Bullion's Latin Grammar; Harkness' First Latin Book; Harkness' Second Latin Book.

Second Session.—Ray's Algebra, Second Part; Higher Arithmetic; Nepos', (Arnold's Edition;) Ollendorf's French Course; De Fivas' Reader; Hadley's Greek Grammar.

SECOND YEAR.

First Session.—Algebra finished; Geometry begun; Nepos; Cæsar; Arnold's Latin Prose Composition begun; Arnold's First Greek book; Telemaque; Charles XII., in French, finished; French Bible.

Second Session.—Solid Geometry; Cicero De Senectute et Amicitia; Arnold's Latin Prose Composition; Cicero's Orationes; Owen's Anabasis; Racine's Tragedies, in French; French Bible, Woodbury's or Ollendorf's New Method with German; German Reader; German Bible.

THIRD YEAR.

First Session.—Conic Sections; Cicero De Oratore, or De Officiis; Livy; Herodotus; Homer's Iliad; Greek Testament; Woodbury's New Method with German; German Bible; Hackley's Plain Trigonometry; Gillespie's Surveying.

Second Session.—Practical Astronomy; Hackley's Spherical Trigonometry; Horace; Odes; Greek Testament; Schiller's Thirty Years' War, in German; Homer's Iliad; Arnold's Greek Composition; Antigone.

FOURTH YEAR.

First Session.—Church's Analytical Geometry; Calculus, Church or Loomis'; Horace, Satires and Epistles; Greek Testament; Thueydides; Alcestitis.

Second Session.—Bartlett's Mechanics; Robinson's Physical Astronomy; Tacitus; Greek Testament; Orations of Demosthenes.

Italian or Spanish may be substituted for French or German, or the modern languages may be omitted.

FEMALE DEPARTMENT.

As a considerable proportion of the Students in the Female Department are pursuing the higher branches, it has been judged expedient to mark out a course of studies, on the completion of which each young lady will be entitled to a Diploma, provided she sustains a thorough examination in all the branches of the course.

COURSE OF STUDY.

English Grammar,	Geology,
Geography,	Alexander's Moral Science,
Arithmetic,	Alexander's Evidence of Chris-
Book-Keeping,	tianity,

Natural Philosophy,	German Reader,
Youman's Chemistry,	German Bible,
Loomis or Cutter's Physiology,	Schiller's Thirty Years' War, in
Burritt's Astronomy,	German.

Or, instead of French or German:—

Harkness' 1st Latin Book,	Virgil,
Harkness' 2d Latin Reader,	Cicero, De Senectute,
Arnold's Nepos,	Cicero, De Amicitia,
Latin Prose Composition,	Cicero, De Officiis.

At the close of the Fall term and of the Spring term, an opportunity will be afforded to any young lady to undergo an examination, without reference to the time she may have spent on her studies, and if the examination be satisfactory, a Diploma will be awarded. After being graduated, young ladies may, if they choose, pursue their studies free of charge for tuition.

COMPOSITION AND DECLAMATION.

There are public exercises in Composition and Declamation every Friday afternoon, at which all the students are required to be present.

SESSIONS.

The Academical year is divided into three terms. The first term commences August 31st, and ends December 20th; the second begins December 28th, and ends March 23d; the third opens April 5th, and ends with the close of the year, June 27th, 1866.

TUITION.

For the Fall term, all the English branches, including Vocal Music and the higher Mathematics, - - - $ 8 50
 For Latin, Greek, French and German, including all other studies of the regular course, - - - 10 00
 For the Winter and Spring terms, respectively as above, 6 30
 For the Languages as above, including all other studies, 8 50
 There is no extra charge for the study of French and German.

EXTRAS.

Music on the Piano or Cabinet Organ, with use of the instrument for the Fall term, - - - - $13 00
 For the Winter and Spring terms, respectively, - - 10 00
 Drawing, - - - - - 5 00
 Oil Painting, - - - - - 10 00
 A full course of Book-Keeping, Single and Double, - $15 00
 To such students as complete a full course in Book-Keeping, and sustain a thorough examination, Diplomas will be awarded.

GENERAL EXPENSES.

In the Young Ladies Department, board, room furnished, tuition in all the branches of the regular course, including Latin, French, German and Vocal Music, fuel and light for the Fall term of 16 weeks, - - - $56 00
 Winter term of 12 weeks, - - - - 45 00

Spring term of 12 weeks, - - - - -	43 00
Or for the year, - - - - -	125 00

The young ladies furnish their own napkins, towels, sheets and pillow-cases.

To young men who board in the Boarding-House, tuition, room furnished with bedstead, chairs, table, stove and fuel, and board for the Fall term, - - - - -	$52 00
For the Winter term, - - - - -	42 00
For the Spring term, - - - - -	40 00

Two young men occupy a room, and furnish each the half of a bed. The furniture for a bed can easily be packed in a trunk or box, and brought from home.

There are also private boarding-houses in the village, where board and rooms are furnished throughout, at very reasonable rates. Besides these, there are two or three very fine clubs, in which students can obtain good board, at rates a little less than in the regular boarding-houses.

The young ladies are required to board in the family of the President. The young men room and board wherever it suits them.

Bills are to be paid in advance, or if not all paid down, interest will be charged on the balance. If on account of sickness, or other unavoidable circumstances, a student is obliged to leave before the expiration of the term, the money paid on the balance of the term will always be refunded. Students are admitted at any time, and are charged only from the date of their admission; but, except under peculiar circumstances, none will be received for less than half a term.

RELIGIOUS INSTRUCTION.

All the members of the Institution are required to attend on the reading of the Scriptures and prayer in the Chapel every morning. Every Wednesday evening there is a lecture on a portion of the Bible, at which free discussion is allowed, and permission given to the students to ask questions or to make remarks on the points that may be discussed. As a church has been regularly organized in the Institution, all the students are required to attend public worship, twice each Lord's day, in the Seminary Chapel, except such as by written request of their parents or guardians are excused to go to the church of some other denomination in the village.

LITERARY SOCIETIES.

There are in connection with the Institution two excellent Literary Societies—the Excelsior and Philophronesian. These meet once a week in their respective halls, for the discussion of subjects, and for other literary exercises. The young ladies also have two Literary Societies—the Calliopeon and Ecclitean—to which none but those of their own sex are admitted as members.

REMARKS.

Vermillion Institute has been in successful operation for a number of years, and is now the largest Literary Institution in the United States under the immediate ecclesiastical control of the Presbyterian Church, its patronage being drawn from ten or twelve different States of the Union. While it is the design of the Board of Trustees to make this a first-class school of its kind, it is believed that there is not a Seminary in the country where so many advantages are offered at so small expense to the student.

The village of Hayesville, the seat of Vermillion Institute, is pleasantly situated in the midst of a fertile and remarkably healthy country. Students coming from the West and South will leave the cars at Ashland; those coming from the East will stop at Loudonville—the former place being eight miles, the latter ten miles distant from Hayesville. Hacks and other vehicles will be in attendance at the opening and close of each session, to convey students to and from the railroad. There is also a daily hack running between Ashland and Hayesville.
